

Media already uses FCC regulation to guarantee the worst possible service, if ownership rules are relaxed service will suffer. I for one will drop my cable service provider immediately if the FCC moves forward with this threat.